@ hello

Idiosynkrasi is all the strange, awkward, quirky, funny, and bizarreness about life and you.

It falls between both the humanistic and geometric style of typefaces. It happened to make this font by trying to create a humanistic font on a program that was more constricted to geometric forms.

After much frustration and an epic surrender to the blocky, geometric forms,

It find that the overall outcome turned out to be appealing, usable and readable as both display font and text.
