The creation of my typeface was very difficult. It started out with ambiguous shapes that wouldn't work in FontStruct. I decided to recreate the typeface within the system and this was the end result. It's based off of sharp bubble letters that I've used for various projects in regular school. Now it has more of a carved style to it.

A frog jumps in
The sound of water.
Summer grass:
All that remains
of strong warriors' dreams.
